

EVENT WORKFORCE

Delivering the right people at the right time.

Our belief of the "right people at the right time" underpins our approach to your event workforce. Our human resources teams have been involved in the event industry for over a decade and it is this experience coupled with our human resource expertise that enables us to deliver large, trained workforce numbers that have a consistent approach to event delivery.

Every successful event requires a strong foundation of human resource management including workforce planning, recruitment, development, retention and allocation of all paid, temporary, and most significantly, the volunteer workforce for any event.

The moment you begin your strategic planning phase, our human resources team begin thinking about your event workforce, providing strategy advice on workforce planning - the type of workforce required, as well as an appropriate recruitment strategy. Our involvement doesn't end there with our teams continuing to be there throughout the implementation of the event workforce plan during your events operational phases.

EVENT WORKFORCE DELIVERY

At EPG we have a complete range of event workforce people including experienced event professionals who can work within your organisation on secondment or act in a consultant capacity to fulfil a role. Our experience allows us to specialise in delivering an event workforce as part of a full turnkey project management solution for your organisation. We can embed a team of people within your organisation to project manage and resource the end-to-end service delivery of any number of functional areas for your event.

RECRUITMENT & TRAINING

Beyond the event workforce we also provide a range of recruitment and training services designed to streamline your event workforce onboarding. This includes a suite of online services for paid, contract, temporary and volunteer personnel including the delivery of training programs, rostering & accreditation, payroll services and communication to personnel through online portals and social media hubs. We provide access to our database of experienced event staff and volunteers including profiles outlining qualifications, certificates, licenses, and experience.
